Scripture Reading:

This Week: Colossians 3:1-2

Next week: Romans 8:21-24

Welcome

Welcome to all of our members and visitors who are worshipping with us in persons or online. We are so glad you have chosen to worship with us. We appreciate the feedback regarding our online service and hopefully it is getting better. Jeb and Liam Bristow-Hanna worked really hard this week trying to perfect your online experience, so please bare with us. Please give us feedback on the online streaming. This is the link for our worship service <https://www.youtube.com/user/ckcocorg1/playlists> or <https://ckcoc.org/> media sermons . Thank you to all the volunteers that helped, we could not have done this without your help.

Even though we are meeting back in the building, please understand NO ONE is obligated to be at services. If you are not feeling well, feel unsafe, or you are an at-risk person, we want you to know that it is OK not to attend worship services in the church building.

The playground is open. We ask parents to supervise and observe the social distancing guidelines. Bible Classes are still on Zoom, 9:00 for the Adult Class and 7pm for the Teen Class.

Please understand that requirements might change from week to week in accordance with CDC and State Guidelines, so we ask that you remain patient and flexible. ~Thank you

SHEPHERDS' CORNER

The pictures of this week's social unrest combined with COVID-19 are almost overwhelming, both visually and mentally. How are we to make any sense out of the world around us? Lately, it seems that we have been exposed to one catastrophe after another. Sometimes it leaves us wondering how to deal with the world change and sense of loss.

As Christians we know the answer. It is the peace that comes from knowing Christ Jesus is Lord. Peace is not the absence of adversity but the sense of well-being and fulfillment that comes from God and is dependent on His presence. It is our knowledge of God that, no matter what happens, He is with us always. Jeb's current sermon series is on "Heaven" and the knowledge that Christ Jesus has gone to prepare a place for us. Much comfort comes from reading and meditating on the Psalms. Psalm 91 starts: "He who dwells in the shelter of the Most High will rest in the shadow of the Almighty".

Another Sermon from Sadie

Raising kids is not for the faint of heart. They are always full of surprises, and perhaps the biggest one comes when they become teenagers. What happened to my lovable little boy? When did my loving daughter develop such an attitude?

Sadie, our Border Collie, and Phoebe, our sweet old Tabby cat explained it to me. When our children are little and lovable, they are like dogs. Sadie will love me no matter what kind of day I've had. As soon as I come through the front door, she is at the top of the stairs waiting to give me slobbery doggie kisses and eager to play fetch. Phoebe, the cat, loves me too, but cats love you on their terms. "You may stroke my fur now. You may fill my water bowl. Yes, I love you, now clean my litter box."

Here is the pet's point. When our children are little, they are like dogs and will love you no matter way, but one day, when they become teens, they turn into cats leaving us baffled, dazed and confused. They still love us, but on their terms. The good news, Sadie explains, is one day in their 20s, they turn back into dogs and smother us in kisses. It's worth the wait. Be patient.

Exercise

Why does it take so much courage to be a parent? Why do children turn into cats? What advice would you give to a parent of teens?

Be a Blessing,
John McKee
